GovConnection

“A better way to buy information technology products.” That’s what Patricia Gallup and David Hall had in mind when they established PC Connection in 1982. Seeing a significant business opportunity in the emerging personal computer industry, the two entrepreneurs launched their direct computer supply business with the philosophy that providing technical advice and focusing on customer service was as important as low prices. Using their personal savings, they purchased $8,000 of inventory, placed a small ad in Byte Magazine, and took their first step on the road to unprecedented growth and innovation. As the magazine hit the newsstands, they waited two long days for the telephone to ring. On the third day, it started ringing. It hasn’t stopped since.

Gov Connection is dedicated to providing solutions in Higher Education that meet the specialized needs of the Ohio State University. GovConnection enables you to achieve your IT goals - on time and on budget.
